Dear Mr. Voorhees,

We wish to thank NDIA for your gift of $750.00 to the Tragedy Assistance Program for Survivors, received on 3/24/2010. Your organization's generosity makes it possible for TAPS to provide immediate and ongoing help, hope, and healing to all who are grieving the death of a loved one in military service to America.

Your contribution supports a wide range of services, made available to surviving adults and children, regardless of relationship to the deceased or circumstances of the death. Through TAPS, survivors can join together and find compassionate support through:

- Military Survivor Seminars and Good Grief Camps for Young Survivors
- A nationwide network of peer-based emotional support groups
- Case work support, crisis intervention and connections to community based care
- TAPS online community for a chat room, message boards, forums and webinars
- Grief and trauma resources that include the TAPS quarterly magazine
- Toll-free TAPS support, help and information line: 24 hours / 7 days a week

TAPS is honored to have NDIA as a partner in our mission. Your donation "makes a lifetime of difference" for the grieving families and loved ones as they gain strength and hope from others who share their journey. Faye Crawford, surviving mother of an American soldier, after attending a TAPS seminar shared the following; "I came to the convention alone; I left with a family, a family I did not expect, but am most grateful to have." The work of TAPS is 'Survivors helping Survivors Heal.' We are able to continue due to the generosity of organizations and individuals who embrace our mission and honor the service and sacrifice of our men and women in uniform.

With sincere gratitude,

Cheryl L. Murphy-Sweet
